Director's Note:

World's a Stage is a camp that is all about creation and exploration. From day one, these students have made many choices (including selecting this play), shared their creative visions, and put in many hours of work memorizing lines, blocking, and choreography. Our young actors have taken on many roles as well, including playwrights, dramaturges, and choreographers. My role as the director has been to make sure the voices of the students are heard and translated into a living performance piece. The resulting production is silly, fun, and full of heart. Enjoy!

Director & Choreographer: Charly Sparks

Director's Assistant: Clyde Krug

Choreographer: Jayme Shimooka

Costumes, Set & Prop Design: Steve Johnson, Clyde Krug, Jayme Shimooka, Charly Sparks

Lighting Design: Colin Koenig

Special Thanks to: Our Dansu Families that have their students participating or have contributed in this production.

Land Acknowledgement

Studio Dansu recognizes that our arts center and the theatres that we perform in occupy the land that is the ancestral home of the Ho-Chunk Nation, who have called this land Teejop (day-JOPE) since the time immemorial.

We acknowledge the circumstances that led to the forced removal of the Ho-Chunk people, and honor their legacy of resistance and resilience. We recognize and respect the inherent sovereignty of the twelve First Nations that reside in the boundaries of the state of Wisconsin. We celebrate their rich traditions, heritage, and culture that thrived long before our arrival.

Studio Dansu respectfully recognizes this Ho-Chunk land and affirms that we are better when we stand together and can work towards a collaborative future. We recognize this as a part of our core belief in the transformative power of the arts and our commitment to educating, enriching, and celebrating our shared human experience.
